

FrontRow
A DAILY REVIEW OF THE DALLAS ARTS

Goss-Michael Foundation Awards Art Scholarships

By PETER SIMEK | June 3rd, 2010 12:03pm |

The Goss-Michael Foundation has announced the recipients of its 2010 art scholarships, awarded to graduating high school seniors in Texas who will pursue a visual arts education at the college level. Grants of $5,000 were awarded to Booker T. Washington's D'Andre Horn and Ricky Ramirez, Rowlett High School's James More, and Houston High School for the Performing and Visual Arts' Catarina Williams. This is the third year Goss-Michael has awarded grants to four Texas students. To view their submissions, visit here.

Image: (From left to right) James Moore – Honey Bear, Color pencil; Ricky Ramirez – Sickle Cell, Stuffed vinyl fabric, 12x24 inches; Catarina Williams – Magazine Tower, Magazines, 2ft x 1 ft.